

I.M.P.A.C.T.™ Marketing

Marketing Excellence In Practice

The fast-changing external landscape and competitive dynamics require marketers to deepen their understanding of customer perspectives and become better in anticipating customers' changing needs.

The advancement of technology and information flow make marketing decision increasingly challenging. The ability to quickly identify true customer pain points and respond with the right strategy and implementation plan is critical to compete successfully with others.

Marketing decision must be evidence-based and building strong marketing excellence play a pivotal role in high-performance organization development.

Beyond the brand strategy development, marketing requires cross-functional collaboration, effective market shaping and governance, and instilling the winning mindset in the organization.

A very enriching and insightful experience! The training was delivered in a very logical and comprehensive manner, with an excellent mix of lecture and participation

Product Manager, Singapore

The content was HIGHLY RELEVANT to my role. It provided clear relatable examples with numerous case studies, and also practical guidance on how these learnings can be applied on the ground

Medical Affair Manager, Malaysia & Singapore

It is one of the best marketing workshops I've attended, with so many new insights even for highly experienced marketers. My team is now charged and more confident for their portfolio

Marketing Director, International Market

The framework is well integrated between theory and practical case studies. It gives a holistic perspective on marketing

Head of Marketing, APAC

Best marketing training I've attended so far. Very lively, a lot of case studies were shared and this helps to make it easier to understand

Country Portfolio Manager, APAC

Comprehensive, practical, structured. Specific and relevant to the pharma industry. The case studies are very helpful for understanding the principles

Product Manager, Malaysia
